Dear Brian,

Forum III is indeed indebted to you for providing us with such an exemplary program. The rave reviews, which are still coming in, are both a complement to you and a great boost to morale here at the Council. We are all very grateful.

I want to especially congratulate you on the adept and clear way you structured such a mass of complicated material. I was very impressed by the caliber of questions raised in response to your remarks. How fortunate for the CIA to have such an articulate and thoughtful spokesman. I only regret that I am not enrolled at Georgetown for the fall.

Finally, I want to relay how much I enjoyed your bringing Jerry to Philadelphia. He is a charming young man whose splendid manners pay you a great complement. If you do bring the entire tribe up for a visit, I hope you will give me a call.

Again, many thanks for a superb presentation.

Sincerely,

Kate

Admiral Stansfield Turner
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Admiral Turner:

In November, I was privileged to attend a briefing which you gave at CIA Headquarters for the members of the National Council of Community World Affairs Organizations. Your delineation of the need for, philosophy of and organization of our nation's intelligence efforts was extremely well done. We feel that it is most important that the American leadership should understand this. It is for this reason that the Officers and Directors of the World Affairs Council most cordially invite you to address the business and civic leadership of Southeastern Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey.

As you know, the World Affairs Council is a prestigious non-profit, non-partisan educational organization which brings to the Philadelphia area outstanding people to talk about a wide variety of current issues of international concern. Among our recent speakers have been: the President of the French Republic, Valery Giscard d'Estaing; United Nations Secretary General Kurt Waldheim; the Honorable Walter F. Mondale; and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger.

Because of the importance of getting the public to understand the rationale behind the recent reorganization of the intelligence network, we would make every effort to assure that the media carried the fullest coverage of your appearance. If you are able to spend the morning or afternoon in Philadelphia, we would be happy to arrange specific media opportunities for you. Perhaps it would be possible to fit in an appearance on one of the local TV talk shows, meetings with the Editorial Boards of the Philadelphia Inquirer and Evening Bulletin, and an interview for the Council's radio show which is aired on the local NBC News affiliate, WFLN, AM/FM.

The tentative schedule for a luncheon in your honor is:

11:00 a.m. Press Conference (if you so desire)
11:30 a.m. Reception in your honor
12:00 Noon Luncheon
1:00 p.m. Your remarks, followed by questions from the floor
2:00 p.m. Adjournment

Possible dates for such a luncheon, in our order of preference, include:

Thursday, May 11
Wednesday, May 24
Tuesday, June 6
Tuesday, June 20
Tuesday, April 25

However, if these dates are not convenient, we would be happy to work out an alternative with your staff.

Thank you for your consideration of this request. It would be an honor and pleasure to be able to present you to a group of eminent Philadelphians on this topic which is of such importance to the United States. We look forward to hearing from you shortly, hopefully in the affirmative, so that appropriate publicity can be begun.

Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Buntzie Ellis Churchill
Executive Director

Dear [REDACTED]

I am sure that my associate, Kate Hedges, has written to express the deep appreciation of our World Affairs Council for the absolutely splendid job you did in meeting last Wednesday with a group of our Forum III members, but I too want to add my personal gratitude and to follow-up a bit on our brief discussion before lunch.

We were particularly pleased that your fine son, Jerome, accompanied you to Philadelphia and we do hope that your afternoon visits to the Independence Hall area were both interesting and enjoyable.

I told you of the cordial invitation extended by our World Affairs Council to Admiral Turner to address the business and civic leaders of this Southeastern Pennsylvania - Southern New Jersey area at one of our major luncheons on a convenient date this Spring. A copy of Buntzie Churchill's letter of March 20 is enclosed for your information.

At the same time, Howard C. Petersen, Chairman, The Fidelity Bank and Chairman of the Philadelphia Committee on Foreign Relations wrote the Director requesting that he dine the evening of his visit to Philadelphia with members of the Committee. Unfortunately, the specific dates which we had suggested for May and June did not work out and we received word from [REDACTED] that as anxious as Admiral Turner was to come to Philadelphia, he could not do so at that time.

Knowing that you were the extremely helpful individual who arranged that briefing at Langley for members of the National Council of Community World Affairs Organizations and knowing that you have been instrumental in arranging Admiral Turner's visits to other World Affairs Councils around the country, I wonder if we might impose upon you to assist us in identifying a couple of dates for next Fall or even early 1979 when it might be possible for Admiral Turner to lunch with our World Affairs Council and dine with the Committee on Foreign Relations. If you could identify some times when that might be done, we can promptly let you know whether those available dates fit into our other scheduling activities. Nothing would please us more, of course, than to have you return at the time of that visit even though you will be into your academic responsibilities at Georgetown by that time.

This comes with so many thanks for what you have done already on our behalf and with the hope that you will collaborate with us in this new endeavor. With best personal regards.

Very sincerely yours,

William W. Bodine, Jr.
President

Remarks: [REDACTED] STATINTL  Blushing slightly, I send these letters along for your information. It was a successful meeting from my point of view as well. The audience was alert and full of good questions, and representative of a broad spectrum of young professional Philadelphians concerned with foreign affairs. I was also able to meet with a representative of the Foreign Policy Research Institute, with whom I am now engaged in a continuing dialogue about respective institutional research.  STATINTL
